Midtown: UrbanDaddy and Midtown Lunch report on the opening of Golosi, a pizza place on Park and 41st that will be handing out free gelato today in honor of its opening. From the PR: "The pizza is sold Roman-style al metro - by the inch ($0.99 – 1.50 per inch, 3-inch minimum). The pies are long, shaped like skateboards and made with Neapolitan Antico Molino Caputo's 00 flour, which is considered the best pizza flour, and strutto (rendered pork fat), which was traditionally used in the past in dough (savory and sweet) in Southern Italy as olive oil was expensive...The gelato will be made on premises daily offering traditional flavors."

Status: Certified Open. 25 Park Ave., Midtown East; 212-922-1169.
